After Stopping Cars of Apples at Kelowna, Growers Get Order From Judge

Marketing To Be Argued in Court

Men, Women and Children, Totalling 500, Seen in All-night Vigil at Tracks

Kelowna, B.C., Sept. 29.—W. E. Haskins, president of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, announced early to-day an injunction had been granted against the shipment of bulk carloads of McIntosh apples from this district. The railway companies had given assurance no such shipments would be sent out without information first being given to the fruit growers' committee, he said.

Here when reports first spread that two shippers would attempt to send out a bulk carload of McIntosh apples, a large group of growers gathered in front of the station. A vigil was held there, and the shippers' attempt to send out a bulk carload of McIntosh apples was stopped. Then they dispersed, weary from an all-night vigil they had maintained to ensure stabilization Board regulations would be observed.

ORDER IS ASKED

Meanwhile Hon. J. W. Jones, British Columbia Minister of Finance, now in Kelowna, had been prevailed on by the fruit growers to ask the Dominion Minister of Trade and Commerce, at Ottawa, to ask him to advise Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, of the situation with the hope of securing an order-in-council under the Fruit Act prohibiting the movement of apples in bulk cars.

BIG CROWD THERE

The men, women and children of Kelowna, who stood guard over the railway tracks through last night and this early morning, protecting their recently won fight for better fruit prices, totaled 500.

WHOLE CITY IS ALIGHT

Through the night, practically every section of its population represented in the crowd that gathered in front of the Kelowna Co-operative and Rowcliffe packing houses, from which the cars were to have been shunted. The passive resistance effort was made, in preference to anything more drastic, when the crowd, first in the C.O.P. Hall and later at the tracks, was addressed by President W. E. Haskins of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association. He urged the growers to refrain from violence and told them T. O. Norris, barrister, was en route from Vernon to attempt to secure an injunction against the shipment. The growers, kept warm by a (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3).

Roosevelt Reported Preparing to Put $5,000,000,000 Now in 1,100 Closed Banks Into Spending Field

By Sam Robertson, Canadian Press Staff Writer

New York, Sept. 29.—An expectant United States to-day awaited a seemingly imminent Rooseveltian move to "booster the recovery drive. Unusual activity of Treasury, Federal Reserve Bank and economic officials at Washington indicated an early announcement on matters As Treasury Secretary William Woodin raced at surprising speed for a man of his size, from one conference to another yesterday, he stopped a moment to tell the press: "We have not yet means fired our last shot for prosperity."

He was pressed for an intimation of what was in the recovery wind—whether it was credit expansion, monetary policy or both—but he would only say an announcement would have to come from President Roosevelt. Then he was away again on short legs that worked like pistons.

WAR WARNING IN THE FAR EAST

League Assembly at Geneva Hears Dr. Koo, Chinese Delegate, Summarize Japan's Campaigns and Tell of Gathering Clouds

By GEORGE HAMBLETON Canadian Press Staff Writer

Geneva, Sept. 29.—In quiet tones Wellington Koo, chief Chinese delegate to the League of Nations Assembly, to-day predicted war in the Far East.

THE ASSEMBLY WAS CONTINUING

debate on the year's work. Dr. Koo, while praising the League's technical accomplishments, described the year as one of disillusion. Japan, despite the decision of the Assembly, had been permitted to violate with impunity the League covenant, the Kellogg Pact and the Nine-Power Treaty of Washington in its campaign in Manchuria and northern China, he declared.

Even as Dr. Koo, former Chinese Foreign Minister, was speaking, reports received from Tokyo said Japanese military leaders were asking an army appropriation of $171,000,000, largest in history for the 1934-35 budget, including nearly $50,000,000 for new materials (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2).

C.C.F. DISOWNS COMMUNISTS

Pritchard Challenges Pooley to Prove Party Is Affiliated Independents Conservatives Under Their Skins, Says Mrs. MacInnis

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—W. A. Pritchard, C.C.F. candidate in Point Grey, speaking in the Elks' Hall yesterday evening, vigorously denied Attorney-General H. H. Pooley's assertion that leaders in the C.C.F. of the province are affiliated with the Communist Party. He challenged Mr. Pooley to produce evidence.

The promise of abundance for all, "with no longer the paradox of what overproduction and hungry people," was held out by Mrs. Angus MacInnis in outlining the planned, socialized economy advocated by the C.C.F. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Edmonton Mines Sell Cheap Coal

Edmonton, Sept. 29.—Coal costs to consumers here have dropped due to a price war following opening of a large number of new mines in the Edmonton fields. Coal is now retailing about $5.50 a ton compared with $5 a year ago.

Coal merchants state mines have sprung up, with operations on a small scale and staffs working at low pay rates, making it possible to sell coal at a much cheaper rate than older and larger mines, which are suffering greatly from the price war.

Winnipeg Street Car Men Vote On Wages

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—Employees of the traffic department of the Winnipeg Electric Company were voting to-day as to acceptance or rejection of a 15 per cent wage reduction proposed by the company. A second point on the ballot is acceptance or rejection of a provincial board of inquiry in the event the vote is against taking the wage reduction. Result of the ballot will be known late to-night.

By W. E. Brockmann, Associated Press Correspondent

Leipzig, Germany, Sept. 29.—Marius Van Der Lubbe made an unequivocal admission of guilt in the burning of the German Reichstag building at to-day's session of the case in which he and four other men are on trial.

Presiding Judge Wilhelm Buenger announced Van Der Lubbe would give his own version of the burning. Thereupon the defendant, standing with drooping shoulders and downcast eyes, replied hesitantly and reluctantly as Judge Buenger, on the basis of an earlier confession, drew a confirmation from Van Der Lubbe.

"Do you admit setting fire yourself to the Reichstag?" the judge demanded.

Almost inaudibly Van Der Lubbe replied, "Yes."

Later, in response to repeated prodding, Van Der Lubbe added "I had no intention of so doing when I awoke that day. The idea came to me as I walked past the Reichstag at 2 o'clock. I spent the afternoon in a suburb, returning to the city at 8 o'clock."

TERRORISM OPPOSED

Further testimony the Communist party did not countenance terrorism was offered to-day.

Walter Jahnske, member of the Communist party up to July, 1921, declared on the witness stand that "Terrorism is not countenanced by the Communist Party," and added "there are, however, some extreme local groups."

Paul Biene, laborer, denied having made inciting remarks and persisted in the denial when the judge told him he was suspected of complicity in the Reichstag blaze.

GERMANY IS FIRM ON ARMS PLAN

Geneva, Sept. 29.—Germany at any risk will insist on the right to possess defensive armaments, a leading member of the German delegation here to-day declared in an interview.

He confirmed disarmament negotiations, underway unofficially for some time, would continue in a friendly spirit.

Rome, Sept. 29.—Rumors the disarmament conference will be postponed through a move of the Italian government which would seek to bring the Four-Power peace pact into play, were denied emphatically and semi-officially to-day.

Should the men refuse to accept the cut and decline to submit their dispute to the conciliation board, a general tie-up of the Winnipeg street car service is threatened.

NO TAX FOR CAR RADIOS

Extra License Fee Proposal Dropped, Says Commission Chairman

Tourist Cars to Be Exempt; Nothing Definite on Resident Owners Having Radio in Car

Following immediate protests of interested bodies throughout Canada, proposals to levy a two dollar license fee on owners of all radio-equipped cars have been dropped by the Department of Marine. It was understood here to-day.

In reply to a protest sent by Herbert

Reynolds, president of the Chamber of Commerce, the department's chairman of the Canadian Radio Commission, stated the commission had nothing whatever to do with collection of license fees but he understood the Minister of Marine had taken steps to correct the error in connection with tourist motor sets.

PREMIER TESTS

Premier Talmie also lent his support in the protest, writing on behalf of the government, to Hon. H. H. Stevens, to lodge complaint against the proposal, which he said would seriously effect one of the province's main sources of revenue.

While the wire from Mr. Charlesworth clearly defines that tourists are not to be assessed for their car radios, it states nothing definite regarding resident owners of radio-equipped cars and general fear was expressed here this morning that a person owning radios for a car and house would have to pay two licenses.

If such is the case, it is understood the protests will be continued not only by public bodies but by radio dealers.

Assessment Change Shifts Tax Burden

More Than $2,500,000 Cut from Land Valuations on 1934 Roll

Part of Revision to Sit Monday on Appeals Against Figures

Approximately forty-five appeals against city assessments for 1934 have been filed with the city assessor for handling by the Court of Revision on the assessment roll which opens its sifting Monday evening at the City Hall. This is considerably less than last year, probably due to the general reduction in assessments effected by the department this year.

Eliminary figures released to-day by George Okell, the assessor, show a reduction of $2,508,465 on the net tax assessment for the 1934 tax roll compared with the 1933 roll.

In the total land gets the benefit of the whole slash, and improvements a slight increase.

The reduction in gross land assessments amounts to $3,030,145 in all, assessments of gross improvements jump $15,780, but this is offset by an increase in the exemption list improvements.

This, it is understood, is in line with general policy of relieving land of heaviest tax burden and putting on to property which is revenue-producing. At the same time the decrease in land values during the last year has been taken into consideration to bring the assessments in line with the actual values.

EFFECT ON MILL RATE

The reduction in assessments affects the taxation value of the roll to the extent of $112,752 on the present mill rate. The assessor expects that the council, in its budget next year, will make substantial cuts in expenditures, an increase in the tax rate will be inevitable.

It is the second year that assessments have undergone revision downward, the cut last year amounting to $1,841,044, of which $1,301,600 was off improvements and just over $500,000 off land. The position is reversed this year and land is given the major reduction. The total slash for the two-year period is more than $4,300,000 which amounts to more than 4.5 mills.

In addition to the reductions in taxable property, the assessor has also cut the valuations on the exempt land list by $528,500, although increasing the improvement exemptions by $22,650, which leaves the net taxable assessment down in both instances.

FIGURES GIVEN

A slight revision of the totals will be necessary after the Court of Revision has finished, but the preliminary totals on the roll at the present time are:

Gross land assessments $28,160,031, less exemptions of $5,957,490, giving a net taxable assessment on land of $22,202,541.

Gross improvements $46,808,705, less exemptions of $14,040,775, giving a net taxable assessment on improvements of $32,767,930.

This shows a grand total of $54,968,736, less gross assessments of land and improvements, less $19,998,265 in exemptions for a net taxable assessment of $34,970,471. Improvements are taxed at sixty per cent of the value.

COMPARISON

By comparison with the 1933 roll, the gross assessment has dropped from $77,983,101 to $54,968,736, exemptions have dropped from $20,504,165 to $19,998,265 and the net taxable assessment has dropped from $57,478,936 to $34,970,471.

The gross land assessment is cut from $31,190,176 to $28,160,031 and the improvements show an increase from $46,792,925 to $46,808,705. The land exemptions are cut from $6,486,040 to $5,957,490 and the improvement exemptions increase from $14,018,125 to $14,040,775, which leaves the following situation in regard to the next taxable levy, the figure on which the taxes are raised.

1934 land, $22,202,541; improvements, $32,767,930; total, $54,970,471.

1933 land, $24,704,126; improvements, $32,774,800; total, $57,478,926.

The reductions in each instance are: land, $2,501,585; improvements, $6,870; total, $2,508,465.

The effect of the revision this year will be to transfer about two per cent of the tax burden on to improvements from land. Under the 1933 roll approximately 56 per cent of the total tax levy was paid on land assessments and the remaining 44 per cent on improvements. On the 1934 assessment land will pay about 54 per cent of the tax bill and improvements 46 per cent.

INTARSIA WORK CREATES INTEREST

Above is shown the inlay table-top displayed at the Provincial Exhibition this month by Arthur Cann, 454 Walton Street. It was the object of much comment at the fair, forming an unusual exhibit. Mr. Cann started construction of the piece at the night school during the 1931 term, and completed it in May this year. It is of solid oak, in mission library style, with shelves built into both ends to receive books and measures thirty-one inches by forty-one inches, the table itself being twenty-nine inches high.

The preliminary work in preparation for the inlay was done by Mr. Cann at the night school, the whole of the top being routed to depths of 1-16 and 1/8 of an inch. The inlay wood came from Hobbies Limited, Toronto, and Hobbies Limited, London, England, and all old there are 640 separate pieces. It includes satin walnut, mahogany, Spanish chestnut, padouk, holly, sycamore, ash and white oak. The color schemes are worked with the natural color of the wood and the way in which the grain is placed, gives the desired shading effects. All pieces have to be cut by hand with fine fret saws. As the picture shows the inlay contains a galloon ship design, which took 164 pieces. The coat of arms of British Columbia required fifty-eight pieces, and the Nova Scotia coat of arms forty pieces. The scene to the left of the ship took eighty-two pieces, and the one on the right 119 pieces. The corner designs required from twenty-five to thirty-five pieces each.

Mr. Cann explained that he put in the Nova Scotia crest because he was born there and the British Columbia crest because "he has lived here for a long time."

Inlay work, or Intarsia as the proper name is, has been Mr. Cann's hobby for the last three years, and he does it all in his spare time. The fact that his table won first prize in the inlay work class at the exhibition testifies to his technique. Intarsia work has an interesting history, dating back earlier than the eighteenth century. It is believed to be of Arabic origin.

Mr. Cann explained that he put in the Nova Scotia crest because he was born there and the British Columbia crest because "he has lived here for a long time."

In connection with the sewer committee's report, although conditions are considerably improved in the sewer system, work will proceed until all danger of flooding is eliminated. The committee was authorized to purchase a cleaner and root-cutter operated by hydrant pressure, and this machine is expected to rectify a considerable amount of the trouble in the system.

Warning notices have been posted and barriers have been placed at all approaches to the ravines connected by the bridges.

Demolition and removal of the wooden bridges will add to, rather than detract from, the charm of the Holland Creek ravines, although this favorite walk of local residents will

REVOLUTIONARY ACTION URGED

United Front Speakers Heard at Victoria West Election Meeting

Thomas Moir, Victoria Candidate, Outlines Platform of Workers

Speakers of the Victoria branch of the British Columbia Workers' and Farmers United Front Council, advocating revolt of the workers against capitalist control, were heard at a meeting yesterday evening in Stanley's Hall, Victoria West, addresses being given by Thomas Moir, United Front candidate in Victoria, and Leonard Norman Tunning.

Mr. Moir first explained the organization of the party. It was the result of the workers' revolt against the controlling government, he said. The idea for the platform had come directly from the workers and had received their unanimous support. Every candidate was taken from the ranks of the working class.

These facts, he said, proved that the party was the only one in the election wholly representing the workers.

PARTY'S PLATFORM

The following platform was enunciated, which was strictly in the interests of the worker. The party stood for full and free insurance; for a living wage; against evictions and foreclosures; for adequate farm relief; for work at full wages; for the taxing of the rich; against terror and suppression; for the abolition of the privileges of operating company towns; for the establishment of vocational training schools for all youth after graduating from public school, for a period of two years with full maintenance; for free hospital, dental, surgical and optical treatments for workers and farmers; for the right of municipalities to self-government and the deletion of certain sections of the Municipal Act, and for the right of all persons over eighteen years of age to vote.

The C.C.F. Mr. Moir said, had admitted they would do nothing for the unemployed. At a meeting of the C.C.F. the night before, the candidate said he had asked T. Guy Sheppard what his party would do to assist the workers in their revolt against present conditions, and had received the reply that they would do nothing.

He would promise nothing definite if elected, but declared he would always advocate the workers' interests and would do his best to bring out the United Front platform.

REVOLT AGAINST CAPITALISM

The capitalist class was steadily forcing the workers down and they had no illusions about democracy in entering the elections, Mr. Tunning said, opening his remarks.

There was no direct section in the manifesto which directly advocated socialism, but this was the ultimate aim of the party, he said.

Social democracy was becoming the last resource of the capitalists in this crisis, he continued. If capitalism was to continue reaping its profits it had to keep cutting wages as the crisis thickened, he said, urging upon the workers revolt against further oppression of the ruling classes.

STARVE IN LAND OF PLENTY

Canada was not short of the necessary commodities for a decent living, he said, and yet year after year the number of unemployed was steadily increasing. The capitalist press had printed items concerning small wage increases, but had not shown the large cuts given railway employees recently, he said.

The workers were beginning to realize their class position as time wore on and realizing the great struggle they had to make for equality, Mr. Tunning said.

"This is a class war that is taking place, and it is not only evidenced by strikes, but is shown by outward war with the use of firearms," he said.

Candidate Moir was not entering the election under the illusion that if he was elected into the Legislature, which he called the "gas house," he would be able to bring about any great changes, but would represent the workers and present their demands for more food for their wives and children.

Only in proportion to their struggles could the workers expect material gains, he said. Since last August there had been 250 strikes, involving more than 32,000 workers, Mr. Tunning said, adding that this indicated a large increase in the workers' protests of the previous year. The majority of these had been successful, indicating the growing support of the revolutionists' organizations.

Capitalism was going to continue for a few more years, the speaker felt, but "competition digs its own grave," he added, quoting Marx, and it was up to the working class to push capitalism into the grave. In the meantime it was necessary for the workers to rally around and demand higher living standards. He spoke strongly in favor of non-contributory insurance, which was an immediate need of the workers.

The speaker strongly attacked the C.C.F., claiming it was only working in the interests of capitalism. He paralleled the rise of the federation with that of Fascism in Europe.

Ex-Judge Criticizes Sending of Soldiers to Stratford Strike Area

Canadian Press
London, Ont., Sept. 29.—Lewis St. George Stubbs, deposed judge of the Winnipeg County Court and now a campaigner under the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation banner, criticized current ideas about "British justice" when he spoke here yesterday evening.

The ex-judge, fresh from a visit to the scene of the Stratford strike area, spent a few vehement words on the action of the authorities in sending troops into the area.

"It is an outrage, a disgrace and an insult," he cried.

"It is the practical application of the iron heel of ruthlessness on the poor," he declared, adding, "and that iron heel is constantly grinding."

"There can be no question about the justice of the cause of the Stratford strikers. They are perfectly justified. They are striking for the right to live and that is all," he declared.

WILL COMPILE NEW DIRECTORY

Victoria Expected to Show
Growth in Population; New Features Planned

The annual canvass for the 1933 edition of the Greater Victoria City Directory was opened to-day under the direction of Roy Wrigley, of Wrigley Directories Limited, the compilers and publishers. The new director will be the most modern and complete ever compiled for this city, Mr. Wrigley said.

A corps of specially-trained enumerators will make the canvass, and calls will be made at every place of residence, business house, office, manufacturing plant, and at every other place in the entire city and surrounding territory.

The canvass will require approximately eight weeks, and Mr. Wrigley to-day urged the public generally to co-operate with the directory men in order that complete and accurate information may be obtained by the enumerators.

The population of Greater Victoria was estimated at 61,456 in the last edition of the directory, and it is believed that the present canvass of the city will reveal a substantial growth since the last directory was issued.

Just as the city is growing better so will the next edition of the directory be bigger, thus reflecting the growth and progress of the community and the expansion of its many interests and activities, the directory men said.

Many interesting phases of the city's activities will be pictured in a Buyers' Guide, which will be one of the outstanding sections of the directory. In addition to this section, and the alphabetical list of names of citizens, business firms and corporations, the street and avenue guide and directory of households, the classified business directory and other features, the directory also will include vital data relating to every phase of civic, social, commercial and industrial activity in the city. The directory of Great Victoria serves as a perpetual advertisement of the community throughout North America, as copies of each issue are placed in directory libraries maintained in the principal cities by the Association of North American Directory Publishers.

HAS OBSERVED SOVIET'S RULE

Rev. M. Billester, Who Arrives Here Sunday, Was Born in Russia

Can Speak With Authority on Conditions There To-day

Rev. Michael Billester, who is visiting Victoria on Sunday, has had an interesting career. He was born in Russia during the reign of the late Czar Nicholas II. At the age of fourteen he went to the United States. He visited Canada in 1914, and studied at Toronto, where he entered the Bible College, and took the full course for the mission field. Next he worked among his own people in western Canada, where he evangelized both Russians and Canadians with a great deal of success.

In 1924 Mr. Billester returned to his native land. He has been extensively in Russia, which enables him to draw from a fund of illustrations out of his own personal experiences and observations. Mr. Billester speaks English perfectly, and thousands in this country have listened to his messages spell-bound. He has had an excellent opportunity of observing the effects of Soviet rule, not simply as a visitor, but as a subject and a resident. Consequently he speaks with authority upon conditions as they are to-day in Russia.

Mr. Billester will spend only one day in Victoria, and will speak three times at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, at 11 a.m., 3 p.m., and 7:30 p.m.

On Monday he leaves for points up the island.

John Hosie To Lecture To-night

The firstcomers by land and sea to the rock-bound coasts of Vancouver Island and the west coast of the mainland, as well as to the mountain regions of the interior, will form the basis of the illustrated talk to be given this evening by John Hosie, Provincial Librarian and Archivist, in St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, at 8:30. The lecture will be under the auspices of H. M. S. Resolution Chapter, I.O.R.G., and the proceeds will be used to further the chapter's work in the Peace River country.

Mr. Hosie has chosen as the title for his lecture "Empire Building in the West," one which fittingly describes the pioneers of the present as well as those of a bygone day. In accordance with the plan so successfully carried out last year, this lecture will be the opening of a series to be given throughout the winter on Empire topics. It was felt by the Chapter that no more fitting subject could be chosen for the inaugural address than one dealing with the early days in British Columbia.

MOTHER OF SHOT MAN HAS NO CLUE

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—Traveling from her farm at Neptun, Sask., Mrs. A. W. Strong, mother of E. A. Strong, twenty-five, Winnipeg, shot early Monday morning, was at the victim's bedside in an Ottawa hospital to-day.

"It is a complete mystery to me," Mrs. Strong stated. "Eustace had no trouble with anyone of which I am aware, and he certainly was not in the habit of carrying a revolver himself."

She knew Leonard Morris, said Mrs. Strong. "I know his mother quite well," Mrs. Strong said. "They are Winnipeg folks, and fine people, too."

Both the victim and Morris have declined so far to give details leading up to the shooting. Morris was remanded six days when he appeared in police court charged with attempted murder.

OIL OUTPUT IN U.S. IS CUT

Government Takes Steps to Raise Price of Crude

Washington, Sept. 29.—A cut in the United States daily oil production has been ordered by Secretary of the Interior Ickes in efforts of the federal government to bolster petroleum prices through controlling the output while studying closely the question of price regulation.

Secretary Ickes, it is understood officially, has been given authority by President Roosevelt to fix or control prices whenever he is ready to act, if production control fails to bring about stability to the industry through its NRA code.

The production allocation which Mr. Ickes ordered to-day, to become effective October 1, reduces the daily total from 2,409,700 barrels to 2,387,500, but provides for a sharper cut in actual production by wells than the 22,200 barrel difference. His order permits withdrawal of 95,000 barrels from storage in five states, which must be deducted from the total allowable in those states.

PRICE INCREASED
Houston, Texas, Sept. 29.—The Texas Company took the price of mid-continent crude oil over the hurdle of $1 a barrel with the announcement of the advance of eight to eleven cents, effective 10-day. Top-grade Oklahoma oil was posted at $1.08 a barrel, with the schedule ranging down to 84 cents for other grades of crude in that state.

FRANCE CUTS QUOTAS

Paris, Sept. 29. (Associated Press).—Import quotas on agricultural products were cut approximately one-third yesterday, inaugurating the government's policy to reserve part of the quotas for tariff trading. The range of the cut was indicated in a reduction in total imports of apples and pears from 68,000,000 pounds to 26,000,000 pounds. Sharper restrictions are expected when the import quotas on industrial products are announced.

CHAPLIN, SASK., SCENE OF FIRE

North Vancouver, Sept. 29.—By resolution, members of City Property Owners' Association decided yesterday evening "that they would do all in their power to see that nobody loses his home in city tax sale on Saturday, September 30."

NEW OPTIMISM IS REPORTED

J. B. Thompson, Vancouver
Harbor Commissioner, Observes Confidence in East

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—A new spirit of optimism is prevalent in the east, according to J. B. Thompson, a member of the Vancouver Harbor Commission, who has returned from the twenty-second annual convention of the American Association of Port Authorities, held in Chicago and Toronto.

"In eastern Canada and the United States one meets optimism on all sides, and it is not the passive optimism of the past," he said, "but an active moving spirit that is carrying all lines of industry forward in its sweep."

Canadian harbor commissioners met in Toronto September 7, he said, and a convention of the same officials was called for Toronto on November 6 to discuss administration in general.

Indian Constables Secure Conviction

Canadian Press
Gleichen, Alta., Sept. 29.—Arrested by two residents of the reserve acting as special constables, Anthony Scalp Lock and Amos Leather, Indians of the Blackfoot Reserve, appeared before agent G. H. Gooderham in Indian court here.

When Special Constables Paul Fox and V. Yellow, and two witnesses, Tom Sleigh and Tom Turner-up Nose, were unable to testify against Scalp Lock, he was dismissed. Leather pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was fined $5 and costs.

The case is believed to be the first on record that Indians have arrested and convicted an accused man in an Alberta court.

WANT BRIDGE BUILT

North Vancouver, Sept. 29.—The City Property Owners' Association at a meeting yesterday evening passed a resolution "that this association is of the opinion that construction of First Narrows Bridge should be proceeded with as rapidly as possible."

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist one ounce of armin (Double Strength). Take this one and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Armin is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the result it gives are many ways quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing, rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this a trial. (Advt.)

Uncle Wiggily's Good Ball

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

Once upon a time Mr. Twistytail, fat pig gentleman, said to Uncle Wiggily,

"Let's go out and play golf."
 "All right," answered the rabbit gentleman. "That will be fun for me, but I can't go out and have any adventures until after the children come home from school, so I may as well go."

Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Twistytail took their bags of golf clubs and played the little white balls to be known around from tee to tee and from fairway to fairway and from bunker to bunker and from trap to trap and from green to the cup. It was a fine, sunny day and the two animal gentlemen felt quite happy.

POOR NUTRITION MAY CAUSE LOW WEIGHT

Mothers are always wanting to find ways to excite their children's low weights. We must admit that weight, unless it is drastically below average standards, may not always indicate undernourishment. The fact that a child's whole family is thin and his one structure delicate are considerations we cannot entirely repudiate, though it is wiser to minimize them in the first two years of a child's life. It is also true that while an insufficient diet is the paramount cause of underweight, there are other factors which demand attention. The healthy child is constantly active, and uses up so much of the nourishment he consumes that there is little left over to be stored as fat. Then our problem is to manage carefully that he get more rest. Such active children should always have early bed hours. My leaflet, "How Many Hours Should Baby Sleep?" will assist mothers in planning the correct sleeping schedule for their children. Addressed, stamped envelope with your request for this leaflet.

LATE HOURS

Children who wander around until 10 o'clock at night are just as apt to be awake at six as those who go to bed at six. They don't make up their required sleep in the morning. Children under two should be in bed before seven o'clock. Those between two and five not later than 7:30 or 8. These are habits well within the control of the mother. Blame for late bed hours should fall on the parent who has been careless, indifferent or actually negligent about keeping the child up for her own convenience.

Even if the child is beyond the nap stage, there are daytime periods when rest can be tactfully enforced. A fifteen-minute to one-half-hour rest period before lunch and another before dinner will do wonders for the child's appetite. It is one thing to come to the table directly from play, excited and fatigued, and another to sit down calmly for half an hour before eating heartily. The diet may need correction, but the child's physical condition may need improvement. During these usual obstacles to gaining weight, there is a magical influence exerted by sufficient rest which the mother would do well to use.

DIES IN PORTLAND

GOLDEN WEDDING
TO BE OBSERVEDMr. and Mrs. John Miller of Cumberland Celebrating Anniversary October 6

Special to The Times

Cumberland, Sept. 29.—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, resident in Cumberland for many years, will celebrate their golden wedding on Oct. 5. Mr. and Mrs. Miller were married at Old Monkland Parish Church, Crosshill Square, Baillieston, Lanark, Scotland, on Oct. 5, 1883 by Rev. Hugh Ramsay. Mr. Miller came to Cumberland in 1889 and his wife and three children the next year. He worked for many years as hoisting engineer with the Dunsinon Company and later with the Canadian Collieries, and has since retired. They have four daughters, Mrs. Ellen Clarke and Mrs. E. Anderson, Union Bay; Miss Margaret Cook and Mrs. W. R. Wallace of Victoria; and Miss Ruth Miller, who is married to Sam and Archie in Cumberland. Another son, John, was killed at Albert in 1929. A. Marshall, Cumberland, is a brother, and Mrs. Hugh Miller, Minto, is a sister of Mrs. John Miller, while Hugh Miller is also a brother of John Miller.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller are planning to hold a reception in their honor at their home on Maryport Avenue.

Merger Already Proves Benefit To CommunityFriendly Help Welfare Association Is Unifying Welfare WorkMayor Endorses Its Aims Before Interested Gathering; Campaign Planned

On the eve of launching a campaign to raise $25,000 to finance the undertaking until the end of 1934, and with a view to adding new members to its roster, the Friendly Help Welfare Association held a public meeting at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening. F. E. Winslow, president, was in the chair and presented a comprehensive statement showing that the amalgamation of the two societies has already proved of benefit to the community.

After reviewing the steps leading to the amalgamation, Mr. Winslow noted that the Central Exchange, which had been established following Mrs. Cameron Parker's survey of the welfare agencies of the city, had already achieved much good. Through its medium it had been found that one family alone had been receiving help from fourteen different organizations and individuals, an abuse which was quickly corrected.

"It has been a great complaint of contributors to charities that too much overlapping occurs; that is, that two or more societies contribute to a family, and that overlapping of investigations into the circumstances of families receiving assistance takes place. The merger of the two societies should assist in overcoming these two complaints," said Mr. Winslow.

VOLUNTARY AID
After intimating that a drive would shortly be started for 1930 new members, also a campaign to raise $25,000, the chairman continued:
"The city of Victoria has its own relief bureau and has certain obligations by statute. The Friendly Help Welfare Association is intended to be an organization carried on entirely by voluntary aid. The directors recognize that the city is carrying its full share of the load of relief which is necessary, and they feel that private assistance must be asked for special relief which does not come within the city's obligation. As far as we can see this will consist of extra clothing, milk for delicate children, medicine which families are unable to pay for, and similar assistance."

NO DISCRIMINATE GIVING
The directors wish subscribers to understand that charity will not be given indiscriminately, but that applications for assistance have their cases investigated by sympathetic workers, both trained and voluntary, and the Friendly Help Welfare Association hopes to be able through the generosity of the citizens to look after the needs of the poor and the unfortunate. Never probably in the lives of any of us have these problems been so acute as they are at this time."

MAYOR AND RELIEF
Mayor Leeming endorsed the chairman's comment to the effect that the city was carrying all the load it can carry at the present time in the way of relief. It had been hoped that the number of cases requiring assistance would be less this year, but there had been an increase, averaging 910 families this year as compared with 902 last. Only in August had there been a falling off in the number of cases, fifty-eight less than for the same month in 1932. The increase in single men and transients had been 33 per cent this year. Contrary to expectations, the government had not taken over the problem, and the consequence was that relief allowances to-day were playing havoc with the city budget.

"I am glad to see the merger of the Friendly Help and Social Service organizations, for I feel that it is possible to insure that no families receive more assistance than is necessary. Through such organizations, it should be possible to supplement the relief allowance with special requirements, such as is occasioned by sickness or other conditions, and I sincerely hope that all citizens will lend their support to this forthcoming campaign," the Mayor said in conclusion.

VOLUNTARY WORKERS
Mrs. A. Z. de Long, a voluntary worker in many Vancouver organizations, spoke briefly of the place of the voluntary worker in family welfare work. When the paid worker was first brought in, she was slightly resentful that the voluntary workers should be superseded, but the paid worker was eventually welcomed by the voluntary workers as a really-acted person, and the two were now functioning happily together, each with its special place. The volunteers were doing much in household management, job scouting, distribution of clothing, etc., and also in the house-to-house canvassing for funds.

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson warmly endorsed the merger of the two societies, a cause for which he had worked for last ten years. He expressed the hope that the public would realize that the amalgamation of the former Friendly Help and Social Service was an accomplished fact, the benefits accruing from the merger being already manifest.

Hopkins reported for the Women's Workshop, and the Local Council of Women, and asked for support for the workshop. Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, Boy Scout convenor, announced that the annual meeting would take place on October 12, at 8 p.m., and extended an invitation to any interested friends.

Mrs. Genge told of having presented the sports cup for the second time to the Girls' Central School. A vote of appreciation was passed to Mrs. E. C. Hayward, who leaves to-day for the Orient, for her loyal support and assistance in the work of the order at all times. Mrs. A. A. Mout moved the vote of thanks to Major Okell.

BOMBS THROWN AT NAZI ACTOR

Anti-Hitler Demonstration
During Performance in London

Associated Press
London, Sept. 29.—A number of chemical bombs were thrown yesterday evening in the Shaftesbury Avenue Theatre during an anti-Nazi demonstration as several youths scattered pamphlets attacking the Hitler regime.

The demonstration was staged as the curtain was raised on "Before Sunset," and English adaptation of Houppmann's play, in which the German actor, Werner Kraus, was starred.

The pamphlets read:

"A message to Hitler through Werner Kraus: We want British actors for British plays and not Nazi actors. Boycott Hitler and buy British."

The manager, who had been previously warned a demonstration was likely, had summoned police. The officers and theatre attendants soon cleared

FROZEN NORTH KEEPS SECRET

Mounted Police Officers Have Found No Trace of Germans
Missing Two Years

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 29.—The trackless wastes of Canada's Arctic regions still hold in icy clutch the fate of two German scientists who ventured into the Northland more than two years ago. Back from the north after months on frozen Ellesmere Island, Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers on board the steamer Nascope said here they had failed to find traces of Kreuger and Keyser.

The Germans have been lost to the outside world since they pushed into the island's interior on an exploratory expedition for a German scientific organization.

MACHINE MADE MAN OBSOLETE

Motive Power Changed, Senator Meighen Tells Vancouver Audience

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Sept. 29.—Scientific advancement and achievement are chiefly to blame for the depression, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader in the Senate told members of a local Service Club at a luncheon here yesterday.

He counselled clear thinking and taking counsel from past experience as necessary under present-day conditions.

"The machine has rendered man obsolete in so far as man produces motive power," said Senator Meighen, one-time prime minister.

Removal of machinery was not the solution for the problem, he said, nor would it answer the purpose to divide wealth "among ourselves" in other words remove individual responsibility.

The Shining Talent

By ELEANOR EARLY

(Copyright, 1929, by NEA Service Inc.)

Red was smiling now as he raised the little cup to his lips. "You're certainly done wonders to a police court reporter," he remarked. "What's that they say about making a silk purse out of a sow's ear? What's a sow, Molly?"

"An adult female swine," she told him promptly. "All little girls from Snodgrass know that one. You're not a sow's ear, Red. You're a cat's paw. Speaking of swine—Bob Newton left shortly before you came. You know, Red, he's simply impossible! What do you think he said to-night? He asked me if you made love to me!"

Red grinned. "He's got a nerve. What did you tell him?"

"I didn't tell him anything. I sent him home." Molly considered her guest quickly. Her eyes were smiling, but her voice was serious.

"You don't actually make love to me—do you, Red? You're just sort of casually affectionate. Of course you put your arm around me—sometimes. And you hold my hand in the theatre. But I shouldn't call that 'making love.' Should you?"

Red looked startled.

"Good lord, Molly, you don't want me to make love to you, do you?"

She laughed at his alarm.

"No," she said. "I think it would be simply poisonous. I should probably want to stay you."

"No joking," he told her solemnly. "You wouldn't want to start something we couldn't finish, would you, Molly?"

She shook her head.

"Because," he continued soberly, "I should love you so fiercely, my dear. So unrelentingly. So terribly. . . I think you would be afraid to be loved the way I should love you."

"It . . . it might be rather wonderful," she murmured.

He looked at her sternly.

"Don't cheapen yourself, Molly. Love's nothing to play with."

"Oh, I didn't mean exactly that," she declared, setting her cup down nervously. "I think you're wonderful, Red. I wouldn't have you changed for anything. I like you just the way you are. Besides, there's your mother, Red. You know you have to think about her."

He laughed shortly.

"I wasn't talking about marriage, Molly. I was talking about love."

"Oh," she said. And then, after a moment, "I don't think you're the marrying kind anyhow."

"No," he agreed. "I don't know, as I am."

He came and stood close to her, and seeing her hand drew her to his feet. Then, for a moment, he put his arms about her.

And then, abruptly, he released her.

Red went away early that evening. And after he had gone, Molly sat for a long while, on the cubist sofa, deliberating.

It was time, she told herself grimly, to call a halt. Two men in a single evening. And both of them making love to her. She had even rather enjoyed Red. For Red! He couldn't be so bad. But Molly had passed resolutions the day before, condemning "sacrifice," as tending "to corrupt the morals of youth."

"Idiot!" she thought.

Mr. Durbin would be glad, though. The publicity, he declared, had fallen off, and with it the sale of tickets. But they were playing to a full house each night. And the advance sale was nothing to worry about.

SAY SOVIET WILL NOT DUMP WHEAT

Some of Delegates at London
Conference State Surplus
Limited

Canadian Press
London, Sept. 29.—Negotiators of Canada and the United States were confident to-day a world wheat programme could be carried out without Russia if necessary, but nevertheless were hopeful the Soviet Union could still be brought into the export agreement.

Russia demands at least 75,000,000 bushels as an export quota, a total which is double her allotment, and yesterday refused to accept a Canadian-

United States offer to share an extension next year of the limit now set for world exports, 500,000,000 bushels. The North Americans insist Russia's refusal does not threaten anything of the nature of wheat dumping on a scale which would force other nations to withdraw their pledges.

FURTHER DISCUSSION
An official announcement said further negotiations would be carried on between the governments, and it was held likely further discussions with the Russians might take place in the United States.

Other delegates said they had no apprehensions about the possibility of Russian dumping of wheat because they are convinced Soviet supplies are not so large as has been claimed, and a serious situation would develop if Russia should export more than the actual surplus, thereby depriving the home market. They pointed out also markets now were very limited, and France, Italy and Germany had large crops, and might take measures to forestall any attempt at dumping.

The North Americans want Russia to join the pact. It was said authoritatively, to remove any uncertainty as to its success, for Russia might have an important psychological if not material effect on markets.

Federal authorities, the Mayor said, viewed Winnipeg as one of the most important aviation centres in Canada

TO MODERNIZE FAMOUS BRIDGE

London's Waterloo Span, Historic Landmark, Now Hundred Years Old

London's century-old Waterloo bridge, which after ten long years of disuse, is being strengthened and modernized for modern traffic needs instead of being demolished and replaced. One of the six principal structures of the city, spanning the Thames, the bridge is one of the business sections of the metropolis. A bulletin from Washington (D.C.) headquarters of the National Geographic Society, Growth of the city's population in the accompanying increase in traffic congestion, is chiefly responsible for the decision to broaden the forty-foot-wide structure to accommodate four lanes of vehicles. Continues the writer, "The fact that London's population has increased by upward of a million within the last century, and that the metropolis area every year, has put the traffic problem constantly to the fore."

Queen Elizabeth began worrying about London's growth, and so did Charles I and James I. But, despite their proclamations against spreading their aid further beyond the walls, London continued to expand. In the last thirty years of the nineteenth century its population increased 75 per cent and this growth finally resulted in a mass of new towns springing up around the mother city. "This was before London got its railway, but even then some 600 coaches and other vehicles brought 600 'commuters' daily into the city. Our own day, the automobile and proved means of communication have facilitated the Londoner's over-into outlying areas."

London's bridges, as a result, have been forced to keep pace with the city's growth. On the six which spanned the Thames a hundred years ago, Waterloo was the only one left in its original state; the others have been replaced by newer and wider structures. The reluctance of some authorities to see this graceful, but narrow, stone structure superseded by a steel bridge due in part to the capital's finest architectural masterpieces of the past. The bridge is 1,240 feet long and is supported on nine arches thirty-five feet high and 120 feet in span. The whole distinguished for Doric beauty and simplicity, solidity and magnificence. widening it, efforts will be made to preserve the best architectural features even by its designer and engineer, John Rennie. "Waterloo Bridge commemorates Wellington's victory over Napoleon and as opened on the second anniversary of the epochal battle, June 18, 1817, with the great Duke himself in attendance. The scene must have been similar to Washington at inauguration time, spectators, some of them grumbling at the high prices charged, filled nearby windows, roofs and terraces, crowded both banks of the river and jammed the seats built in adjacent wharf yards and on the bridge itself. Barges and boats covered the Thames. Along the bridge eighteen colorful standards of Britain, Russia and the Netherlands fluttered above the heads of brilliantly uniformed Foot, Horse and Life Guards, many of whom had fought with Wellington at Waterloo, and who wore medals of valor, and laurel decorations with 'Waterloo, 18th June, 1815,' in gold letters. Military bands struck up rousing marches. Near one end of the bridge a 'fair' was held with swings, cakes, gingerbread and beer, to amuse the populace.

"As cannon began to thunder a salute of 202 rounds, to recall the number of French guns captured at Waterloo, the Prince Regent (later George IV) embarked on the royal barge at Whitehall Stairs. The barges of the Lord Mayor, the Admiralty, the navy appropriately beflagged, followed the royal barge. Landing at the Surrey end of the bridge, the Prince Regent, with the Duke of York and the Duke of Wellington, paid the toll penny (for Waterloo was a toll bridge for many years) and passed over the bridge amid enthusiastic cheers.

"During the ceremony the Prince Regent christened the bridge Waterloo, although it had first been known as Strand Bridge, because it was designed to cross the Strand, the main thoroughfare of the city, and the Surrey shore on the opposite side of the Thames. Just as patriotic Englishmen of that day named hotels, academies, coaches and bonnets for Waterloo, and streets, inns and boots for Wellington.

"The south end of the bridge affords one of the best views of London. On the north end rises the long facade of historic Somerset House, now government offices, where the works of Shakespeare and other famous men are kept. Past it sweeps the Victoria Embankment along the river's edge. To the east looms the dome of St. Paul's, and to the west rise the towers of Westminster. Near the south end is Britain's largest and finest railway terminal, Waterloo Station, familiar to many American visitors who take the boat trains up to London from Plymouth and Southampton."

CANCER COMMITTEES

Calgary, Sept. 29 (Canadian Press).—Appointment of cancer committees in all hospitals is urged by the cancer committee of the Alberta Medical Association in a report issued by Dr. Harold Orr, committee secretary. Dr. Orr stated treatment had immediately followed diagnosis in all cases in the province in 1932, but he indicated treatment was delayed in many cases because of failure on the part of victims to recognize early symptoms of the disease.

The regular meeting of the Canadian Labor Defence League will be held this evening at 343 Michigan Street, and a social and card game will follow. This is the anniversary of the death of three miners during a strike demonstration in Estevan in 1931, and will be commemorated by the members present. All members are urged to attend and a general invitation is given to sympathizers and friends. A collection will be taken to augment the funds of the organization.

Favors "Vacations" for Mothers With Fathers Assuming Greater Share in Child Training

Carmel, Calif.—Ella Winter is a firm believer in the efficacy of a part-time mother plan of life.

One year she is off to Europe, Mexico or Australia for a long stay, gathering material for a book, articles, or lectures. The next year she settles down here, takes over the management of the house, becomes a home-maker, gardener and companion for her husband. Just as much as a man, So Miss Winter always has had. Her interests are very broad, having specialized in economics at the London University and served as assistant to Felix Frankfurter at the Peace Conference. She later went to Germany and took psychology with some of Berlin's leading professors. Whenever she decides there is something in the world to write about, she writes. She is a fine rough-neck, not anything of a mollycoddle about him. Moreover, he believes that getting away from her child gives a mother a valuable perspective. We have definite ideas about the education of Pete. And they do not call for any being here every minute.

Pete himself is 100 per cent boy. "Why shouldn't fathers have more part in bringing up children than they usually have?" she answers criticisms about her leaving her son. "I think Pete proves that it is a good thing. He's

There is none of the suppressed "I wish I could be doing something else" about her that makes so many American women discontented. When in Russia, she concentrated on getting facts for her "Red Virtue," a book on new Russia, with an absolutely unworried mind because she knew that Lincoln Steffens and Pete probably were having a grand time bathing, cooking, dishwashing, mending, playing little-de-winks with Pete or riding horseback or on a bicycle with him.

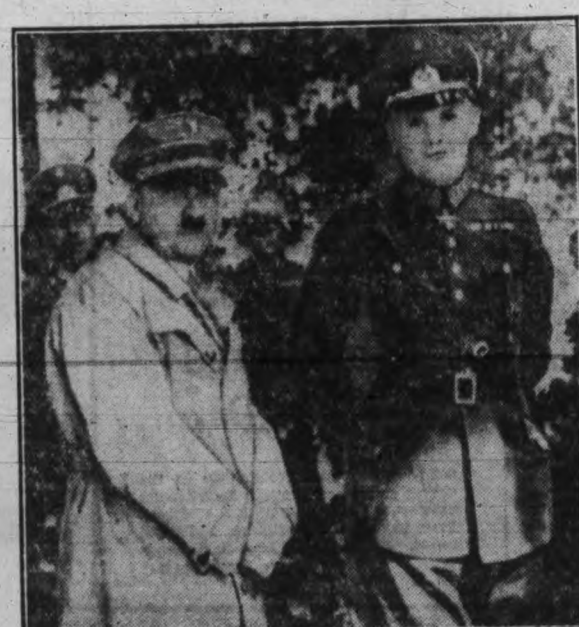

"I really like housework, you know," she said, in her crisp English voice (she's actually an Australian). "And I adore gardening. Did you notice our Italian cypresses? They remind Stef and me of Italy, where Pete was born. And of course we had to plant all English flowers in our garden (which is a riotous bower of bloom right this minute). And we are really proud of our vegetable garden. It's the best-burges garden in all California."

Mr. and Mrs. Steffens have always held the view that a woman should

Horoscope

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1933

According to astrology this is not an important day in planetary government. Concluding aspects are active, however.

In the morning there is a sign read as presaging accidents and the prevalence of destructive influences. It is well to be careful on week-end outings.

Under this way news of wars in foreign lands may be disturbing. Talk of national defence will be widespread as the year draws to an end. It is forecast.

This should be a favorable day for study and contemplation. Professors should benefit and their counsel should be helpful under this rule of the stars.

The path of the solar system is seen as dividing the peoples of the earth into spheres of individual action. The question of allies will be important in its bearing on the Orient.

Atlantic Russia comes under a way read as disturbing to the plans of the Soviet Government, which is to gain armaments in many places.

Mars in Scorpio is read as portending many fires as well as crimes of extraordinary violence and atrocity. Federal aid in suppressing lawlessness is assured.

Forestry and the cultivation of flowers will gain greatly in public interest in the United States, where beautiful cities are to develop.

Architecture is subject to radical changes but the extreme tendencies of American suggestion will be modified. It is predicted.

Inventions of rare attainment are projected, and among them will be several that explain or at least cast light on psychic phenomena, astrologers announce.

Earthquakes are prophesied for places not familiar with tremors and in certain regions that have previously suffered there may be a recurrence of the serious visitations.

Great Britain is to sustain severe troubles.

Colwood

The unique baby show and silver tea sponsored by the Colwood Women's Institute drew a representative gathering Wednesday afternoon in Colwood Hall. A collection of three hundred photographs of members and friends taken when babies, was a great attraction. Miss Kelly, president of the institute, acted as general convener and welcomed the guests. The speaker was Dr. R. H. Wiggins of Victoria.

DEMAND INQUIRY INTO HOSPITALS

Canadian Press
North Vancouver, Sept. 29. — The City Property Owners' Association has decided to inquire of Commissioner C. E. Tisdall his reasons for the recent changes in administration of the North Vancouver General Hospital. Inquiry will be made as to the salaries of the manager-secretary-treasurer and the matron, and how they compared with salaries formerly paid to the secretary and superintendent. Members said it had been brought to their attention certain members of the hospital board were not ratepayers, and Commissioner Tisdall will be asked to supply the names of such members if that information is correct.

A doll, dressed and donated by Mrs. H. Parker was won by Mrs. T. W. Spencer. The proceeds of the tea will benefit the piano fund of the institute. A successful card party was held under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to St. John's Church Wednesday evening in Colwood Hall. The bridge winners were Mrs. A. D. McLean and Rev. Acheson-Lyle. Miss Savory and J. A. Wood. The prizes for five hundred were awarded to Mrs. W. Longworth, B. Parker, Mrs. King and W. Bosworth. Refreshments were served by the members of the auxiliary.

A New Record! 3000 tons of Coal in her hold!

IN 1832, the famous old clipper "Glory of the Seas" left Nanaimo with 3000 tons of coal in her hold, the largest coal cargo ever carried by a sailing ship.

The reputation of Island coal had grown tremendously throughout the world since the first organized operations began in 1854.

A fleet of sailing vessels was continuously engaged between Nanaimo and ports up and down the Pacific.

In other days, shrewd buyers waited for these ships, because they knew the coal they brought gave the most heat per dollar. Today, efficient distribution organizations deliver the same good coal on a few hours notice.

The mines on Vancouver Island have been operating for 80 years, and high grade coal shipped has always been, and still is, the leader in the Coast cities' market.

A proven product, distributed by conscientious dealers, assures you the best value for the money expended.

MUSICAL FILM IS PRE-VIEWED

Large Crowd From Music Clubs See Midnight Screening of Melodious Picture

Several hundred members of local musical organizations were guests of T. F. W. Ackery, manager of the Capitol Theatre, yesterday evening in a special midnight preview showing of "Waltz Time," the British-Gaumont musical romance film, which is being brought here for public showing with a run starting to-morrow.

The picture, which is set in Vienna, is compounded of the swinging melodies of Johann Strauss' "Die Fledermaus" music and an entertaining light opera plot. It is carried through in the characteristic Viennese atmosphere of gaiety and gorgeousness which the run of ever-popular Viennese musical films have made traditional. Whatever it may be shy of in the way of ultra-smart sophistication, novelty and heart interest, is more than made up by its tunefulness and unusually high quality of voice work and orchestration.

Evelyn Laye, with her brilliant voice and film appearance, is starred. The other leading singing roles are taken by persons who can act as well as be recorded with quality voices. The role of the jester, taken by an often-seen screen comic, created much amusement. It was carried out by an artist of burlesque, although a director with a little more imagination might have resorted to something other than over-acting the shop-worn bottle-drinking gag.

The film was enthusiastically received and will prove to be a much-talked-of drawing card here, as it has in the other cities where it has been shown.

IN MUSICAL REVUE AT EMPIRE

COLORED REVUE PACKS THEATRE

"Change Your Luck" Snappy Melange of Dance, Syncopation and Song

Dusky Chorines and Darcy Comedians in Fast-stepping Show at Empire

Offering a galaxy of chocolate-hued, fast-stepping and scantily-clad chorines, the all-colored musical revue "Change Your Luck" made a hit with a crowded opening house last night at the Empire Theatre. The show is being continued to-day and to-morrow.

As a colorful spectacle, this revue aspires to all the curves and contours of the average girl show, and if it does not appeal to every taste it will be acknowledged by all who go to the Empire that it is the snappiest production that has been put on stage in this city for a long while.

The chorus is well-balanced, nimble and agile, capable of interpreting the most intricate dance steps successfully.

If there is a tendency to blatancy it is confined to the first half of the show, in which the performers, in their whirling abandon, descend to the level of squirming, wriggling contortions. It might be said that the production of this represented the true art of the dance.

"A Bouquet of Beautiful Gowns," an attractive ensemble and perhaps the most outstanding of a number presented during the show, left comparatively little to the imagination. The refrain, "Why Can't This Night Be For Ever" added a note of appeal to the parade of dancing mannequins. "Love Is Calling, I Want to Go Where You Go," and "Dinah" proved attractive numbers.

HALF OF THE SHOW
Shirley Birch, who is the half of the forty-nine and a half, manages to keep the audience in a state of mirthful collapse by his antics and songs. The silver-bowled half-pint acrobatic comedian puts his best vocal effort into "Two Tickets to Georgia."

Cecil Williams and Alex Lovejoy contribute to the gaiety of the revue, and the former's solo numbers made a good impression. The Four Deacons, a male quartette, drew rounds of applause by their rendering of "Sleep, Kentucky Babe."

It would be difficult to excel the tap dancing of the three chorine leaders, who are the embodiment of volcanic rhythm. The acme of syncopation is reached by Curtis Mosby and his Dixieland Blue Blowers. This colored jazz band leader has won considerable fame on the radio chains. The nine performers under his direction provide a highly entertaining musical accompaniment.

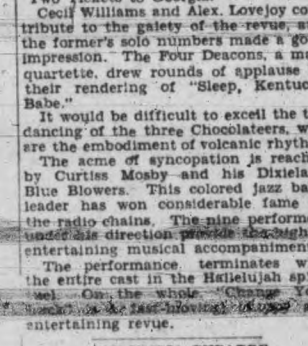

The performance terminates with the entire cast in the hilarious spirit-entertaining revue.

John Hopper To Open Season Of Musical Arts

Two outstanding artists, Viola Hopper, violinist, and John Hopper, pianist, have been secured by the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club for its opening season of the season, to be held on Wednesday evening, October 4, at the Victoria Auditorium. Both these artists have appeared in Victoria before, and are well known to the audience. John Hopper is one of those pleasing artists who delights his audiences with his real musicianship. He is an artist who quickly, gracefully and easily assimilates the compositions of every age and style. He has traveled and studied in Europe and America. He is not a dilettante. His interpretations are fully authorized and distinctly individual, gratifying and enjoyable. His playing is the first consideration in his art. His programmes are carefully planned. His technique is always adequate to every demand, but is never obtrusive. He has been soloist with several orchestras, including the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Karl Krueger. His success and popularity are attested by the ever widening demand for his concerts and the frequency of return engagements. Mr. Hopper is also recognized as a leading accompanist. He has appeared with such noted artists as Claire Dux, Cornelius Van Vleet, Theodore Spier, Katherine Meike, Ronny Johnson and Martha Graham.

GOOD WORK IS PRAISED

Mayor and Police Chief Say Recreation Rooms Have Done Splendid Work

Committee Needs $1,200 to Carry on Work Through Winter Months

For nearly two years the Citizens' Recreation Rooms have been doing good work in the city, assisting unemployed men. A clean bright institution, where games, reading, writing, concerts, baths and gymnasium may be enjoyed, is provided. The rooms are run on a strictly non-sectarian basis and all men are welcome. The cost of upkeep has been entirely covered by voluntary subscription and the finance committee is again appealing to the public, to subscribe funds to carry the work through the winter.

The establishment of the Citizens' Recreation Rooms, in the opinion of Mayor Leeming, has assisted greatly in the handling of problems in connection with unemployed single men. The rooms have been of undoubted benefit to large numbers of unemployed in the city, and the committee is again appealing to the public, to subscribe funds to carry the work through the winter.

Chief of Police Healey said, regarding the rooms: "It affords me pleasure to say I am fully in accord with the principles of the Citizens' Recreation Rooms."

"It is my opinion this institution has proved invaluable in the present conditions, in that it has provided recreation for many of our unemployed, keeping their minds occupied and lending them encouragement in their difficult situation."

"The institution is deserving of every success in the future and I have no hesitation in saying that I consider its past success is no small matter, due to able supervision."

Frank Paulding says the Y.M.C.A. is working in co-operation with the Citizens' Recreation Rooms in arranging for recreational exercise of the unemployed. R. F. Taylor, treasurer, stated the present funds will only cover expenses until the end of next month. He is appealing to the public, to contribute funds to carry on during the winter. About $1,200 will be needed to keep the rooms open until next spring. Subscriptions will be accepted either in monthly form or by direct payment, and may be paid to the secretary at the rooms or addressed to R. F. Taylor, treasurer, 408 Post Street, or to the Citizens' Recreation Rooms, 408 Post Street, or to the Citizens' Recreation Rooms, 408 Post Street, or to the Citizens' Recreation Rooms, 408 Post Street.

Last year the membership drive brought in 155 new subscriptions and renewals. A hundred and fifty is considered an excellent figure.

It is the boast of the Y.M.C.A. that it caters for all ages from eight to eighty. Last year it had members of both these ages.

The Senior Gym leaders' corps will meet to-morrow evening to discuss the particulars of the International Leaders' Convention to be held in Vancouver October 27-28 and 29.

A meeting has been called for Monday night at all those interested in boxing and wrestling, including all last year's members any other who may wish to join.

The Junior Leaders' corps will meet to-morrow evening to discuss the particulars of the International Leaders' Convention to be held in Vancouver October 27-28 and 29.

CUT SOUGHT IN WATER RATE

Sooke Residents Protest Against Arbitrary Charge of $27 a Year

Water Commissioner to Look Into Cost of Meters and New Pipes

Seeing a reduction in the water rate charged to residents of Sooke who receive their supply from the city's system, L. Sykes and A. J. Syrett presented a petition to G. M. Irwin, acting city water commissioner, this morning signed by virtually 100 per cent of the residents.

Water users in the locality are now charged on a flat rate of $2 per month for water, no matter what quantity is used, and an extra $1 for three months in the summer for irrigation purposes. This brings the total water bill to $27 a year, no matter what amount is consumed.

In placing the matter before the water commissioner, Mr. Sykes and Mr. Syrett argued that some of the users in the district are bachelors living in small one-roomed shacks, and use no more than a couple of kettles full of water a day, in which cases the charge is exorbitant. In the city the average water bill runs from $1.50 to $1.60 a month, depending upon the amount used.

The petitioners said they were willing to be placed on meters, which would measure the amounts consumed. At the present time there are no meters in this district.

After listening to the petitioners, Mr. Irwin promised to investigate and report to the water committee on the matter. The cost of installing meters and the possible need of replacing the pipes in the district, which have been in use about twenty years, factors which must be taken into consideration.

D. O'SULLIVAN LAD TO REST

Hundreds Pay Last Tribute to Noted Sportsman at Funeral This Morning

St. Andrew's Cathedral was filled with a large congregation for the funeral services of Daniel O'Sullivan, noted sportsman and rowing coach, who passed away last night. The cortege with its flower-covered hearse and an extra car conveying the many beautiful floral tributes received from friends far and wide, left the family residence, 413 Quebec Street, at 8.45 o'clock, proceeding to the Cathedral, where Rev. Father O'Neill conducted the solemn requiem mass at 9 o'clock.

In the congregation were Mayor Leeming and members of the City Council, members of pioneer families, representatives of the many sporting organizations who owed so much to the late Mr. O'Sullivan, including the J.B.A.A. and many of his former colleagues in the Customs department, as well as a host of friends and citizens in every walk of life who had assembled to pay their last tribute of respect to one of Victoria's best-known and most highly-honoured athletes.

The pallbearers included: C. B. Wilson, whose father was a fellow passenger with the late Mr. O'Sullivan's father on the sailing ship Celesta from England via Cape Horn in 1891; Alex. McDermott, R. P. Taylor, F. A. Gowen, A. H. Cox and F. W. Davey. Interment was in the family plot in Ross Bay cemetery.

U.S. ENDS BIG PIG PURCHASE

Government Has Spent $50,000,000 on 6,000,000 Hogs; Food For Needy

Washington, Sept. 29.—After spending nearly $50,000,000 the United States government stepped out of its role as purchaser of pigs and sows to-day at the close of trading in livestock centres.

Last night, the farm administration expected to have as a result of a month's purchases nearly 6,000,000 pigs weighing up to 100 pounds and more than 150,000 sows sold to farmers.

In the storage rooms of packing plants which have processed the swine, the administration will have on hand upwards of 100,000,000 pounds of pork prepared for distribution to the needy by the federal relief administration.

Already a new programme aimed to control future production of hogs and corn grown principally as hog feed is near completion by the administration. It contemplates no more government purchases, but the payment rather of benefits to hog and corn growers in return for agreements to cut production during the next year.

Canadian Press. New York, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told an audience at the Exposition of Women's Arts and Industries, now running here, that with women's ever-increasing influence in every walk of life, they have that much more responsibility.

"It is always a thrill to see what women are doing and what they can do, in business. It adds to my already firm conviction women are becoming more and more of an influence in every walk of life."

With Mrs. Roosevelt on the platform was Miss Marie Dressler, actress, who said, "You can't tell me what women can do. I know. 'Don't ever be pessimistic. That's my commandment'."

THE SPECTATOR MIRROR

Barney Ross Starts Campaign Leading Up to Bout With McLarnin

Clark Griffith Hopes World Series Will Go Six Games Anyway

Lawson Little Has Been Real Giant Killer in U.S. Title Golf

BARNEY ROSS, reigning box office attraction, is preparing to cast his lot among the heavier ringmen. With Tony Canzoneri eliminated for the time being, the lightweight champion's board of strategy has mapped out an extensive campaign through the winter months, leading up to a battle with Jimmy McLarnin, welterweight king, next June. Ross will return to New York in November for a bout with Jack "Kid" Berg, the Britisher, who may tip the beam at 140 pounds. Billy Petrolle is being paid for another overweight affair in Madison Square Garden.

It is unlikely that Canzoneri will be given another chance to win back his lost title for some time. Ross' handlers have high hopes of cleaning up in the midst of a popularity wave, should he dispose of the heavier opponents, which is likely, McLarnin will be an outdoor show opponent in New York, with Jimmy's welterweight crown at stake. Keen rising odds are being laid that Ross will be a fullfledged 147-pounder within another year. They insist he will encounter difficulty making the lightweight limit this winter.

Clark Calvin Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, American League, is hoping that the classic will go at least six games, and he will not be mad if a seventh contest is necessary to return a winner. Griffith is depending upon a healthy cut from the series to put the Washington club in the black for the year. If the series with the New York Giants is decided in four or five games, it is likely that Washington will finish in the red, for the Senators' park is small and antiquated, while the Polo Grounds in New York has not the seating capacity of Yankee Stadium.

As a matter of fact the Washington press has been singing "The Poor Man's Blues" since. Barely a big money-maker during the years Griffith has run the club, the Senators have not done much business at the home box office this season, despite the fact they were out in front of the greater part of the race. Baseball men speak of Griffith as "operating on a shoe string." He never had much money, they say, in fact some of them think he is only a salaried employee. Griffith certainly has not dangled any real money before the eyes of minor club heads owning star players.

Just a word about Lawson Little, the conqueror of Ross. Somerville, last year's United States amateur golf champion, Somerville is only one of the numerous big names who have fallen before Little. In United States title play since 1928, Lawson has beaten Johnny Goodman, Dr. William Phillips, Phil Taylor, Maurice McInnis, and Ross Somerville. Two of these were Walker Cup team players, one was United States and former Canadian amateur champion, and one (Goodman) later won the United States Open.

You can see that this year's performance of Little is not a flash in the pan. He also is Colorado State champ and runner-up to Gus Moreland in the Trans-Mississippi, a final match which Moreland won by showering Little with birdies in the home stretch. Charley Seaton, Walker Cup player, has been a victim of Little's golf in university championship play, they both went to Stanford, and Charley Ferrera, United States public links champion, was downed by Little this spring.

Lawson is supplied with an overflowing amount of confidence. He fears no golfer and is experimenting with a lot of them by saying as much. But as Tommy Armour says, that confidence helps to build up a real championship game.

Golf is one game which strikes pretty closely to old rules, but that doesn't keep people from trying new ways to win the ball. In the last month, teams of players have chased a ball around the course in twenty minutes, using automobiles to step up the pace, and a team of seventy-five players stationed around another course, relayed a ball for eighteen holes in about eight minutes less than that. Late professional players have played as much as 300 holes of golf in one day. Bob Stewart, recording that dizzy total after a previous attempt in which he played only 200.

But the latest dizziness consists in taking golf off the links and putting it out on the water. Golfers who were to drive at a target on San Francisco bay boarded a ferryboat, which was maneuvered to give them a shot at an eight-foot canvas mark.

Arsenal, famous London soccer team and winner of the first division pennant last season, is experimenting with a new idea. More than eighty boys from the leading public schools are to receive expert coaching from the club instructors, both in the way of lectures and actual play on the football field. The club directors are confident that an intelligent class of soccer players can be developed better this way than by the usual method of selecting promising players from minor clubs. If successful the scheme is to be taken up by more of the first division clubs.

COLUMBUS IN SERIES LEAD

Defeat Buffalo 8 to 5 to Take Game Margin in Little World Ball Series

Paul Dean Hurls Masterly Ball, Striking Out Twelve; Play Again To-night

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—Columbus Red Birds slugged their way into a 2 to 1 lead in the title world baseball series yesterday evening by taking the third contest, 8 to 5, from Buffalo, while some 6,000 fans huddled in the stands.

Paul Dean, younger brother of the pitching Deans, went the route for the Birds, allowing seven hits and striking out twelve batters. The tall right hander was complete master of the situation between the first and ninth innings, allowing only two blows in seven frames. In the ninth he eased up a trifle and immediately found himself in trouble as the Bisons pushed across a trio of runs.

Manager Ray Schalk paraded three pitchers to the mound in an effort to stem the tide. Phil Gallivan started and the Birds collected four hits and a like number of runs off him in the first one-third frame.

The two clubs will end their stay here to-night, and then move on to Buffalo, where they will play until one club has won five games.

ARGUE OVER GAMES FUND

U.S. Olympic Association Seeks $1,000,000 Surplus From Los Angeles Classic

Take Action When Olympic Committee Seeks to Use Money to Retire State Bonds

Los Angeles, Sept. 29.—The American Olympic Association, with headquarters in New York City, injected itself into a suit brought by the tenth Olympiad committee yesterday demanding it be given the surplus money of the 1932 international games, amounting to more than $1,000,000.

The tenth Olympiad committee has instituted the proceedings to obtain court approval to use the surplus for the retirement of state bonds amounting to $1,000,000 voted by the California Legislature to insure the staging of the Olympiad here. The American Olympic Association seeks to block such action.

The Olympic Association, through its attorneys, declared it has charge of all the Olympic affairs in the United States, including the raising of funds for the games and the payment of athletes' expenses. It contended whatever surplus exists should be used for preparation for the next Olympic games.

Vancouver Heavyweight Takes Two Out of Three Falls From Ray Frisby

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—Jack Forsyth, Vancouver, 218, took two out of three falls to defeat Ray Frisby, Los Angeles, 215, in the main event on the wrestling card here yesterday evening.

Frisby won the first fall in the first round with a body press. Forsyth evened the match in the second with a body press and won the verdict in the third with a body slam.

Jack McLaughlin, Vancouver, 158, defeated Reg Russell, Des Moines, 157, in the semi-final, taking two straight falls.

McLaughlin took the first fall in the first round with a toe hold and ended the bout in the next frame with a body slam.

A loose fall in the second round gave Bill Drusco, Vancouver, the verdict over Chuck Dunn, Regina, in one of the preliminaries. The men were wrestling at catchweights.

In the curtain raised Mel Crowe, Halifax, 168, and Leo Jensen, Vancouver, 160, won three rounds to a no-fall draw.

Latter Enter Second Game of Gridiron Play-off With One-point Margin Winner Will Meet Victor in Victoria-New Westminster Series in Final

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—Francis drilling of plays, old and new, marks the approach of the second Meralomas-V.A.C. big four Canadian football game at Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon. Meralomas, reported crippled with injuries in the early part of the week, are back in the fight with a dangerous running attack to avenge the nip-and-tuck 7 to 6 victory of V.A.C. in the first game of the series.

Over at Athletic Park under the lights Norm Burley is taking V.A.C. apart and putting them together again in an effort to assemble a machine that will look like the smooth-functioning combination it is reputed to be. Injuries to the red-blanketed horde are of the minor variety, and a full team is reported for duty Wednesday night.

SPRING SPRINGS ANGLE Coaches Boucher, Hutchison and Crocley of Meralomas are confident that Ferris, Spring and George Niblo are in shape to elude the grasp of V.A.C. tacklers to-morrow, although Harry Spring is still hobbling around with a badly sprained ankle. Ferris and Niblo have responded to treatment with the kicking and aerial departments of the Meralomas offense is assured.

A heavy line under the leadership of Capt. Bill Garvin has been drilled by Dr. "Hammy" Boucher with an eye to smothering V.A.C. plays and from this stone wall, Harry Oakenfull and Bill Lawrence have been worked into a battering combination as line-smashers.

Bert Downey, although nervous in his first senior start under V.A.C. colors, has settled down, and Burley will use his 197 pounds of speed and brawn as a battering ram. Don Stewart, a combination of speed and trickiness, has learned his signals, while Dalby and Steele add a turn of speed that a new attack has been developed to shake loose.

CRUCIAL CONTEST Admittedly weak in line duty in their opening game, V.A.C. has spent a couple of seasons on tackling, blocking and coping with Burley wielding the whip.

This second game of a two-out-of-three series, the winner to meet New Westminster or Victoria in the provincial playoffs, is a crucial contest. Meralomas, defending champions, will be out of the playoff picture if they represent B.C. in the inter-provincial playdowns. A crucial contest will be the deciding factor in this game, it is conceded by experts.

Conforming to their policy of stimulating interest in the Canadian game, the semi-final College students will be guests of the Big Four League to-morrow afternoon at Athletic Park. Del V.A.C. wins again to-morrow; Jack "Moose" Parker, judge of play, and Harry Orr, head line-man, for the game.

A special meeting of the Juvenile Football League will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Y.M.C.A. This meeting will be the final date for receiving entries for the two divisions. For teams under eighteen years of age and under sixteen. All interested in juvenile football are invited to attend.

WRITERS WAR WITH LANDIS

Chicago Scribes Object to Appointment of Scorers For White Sox-Cubs Series

Chicago, Sept. 29.—An open battle broke out yesterday between Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis and the baseball writers of Chicago over appointment of official scorers in the coming city series between the Cubs and White Sox.

Commissioner Landis recently appointed Harry Nelly and James Cruesberry, formerly active baseball writers, as official scorers without consulting the Chicago chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association. The writers, who usually select the official scorers for the world and city series, met and named Herb Simons of the Times and Eddie Munnell of The Herald and Examiner.

A committee, representing the writers, called on Commissioner Landis yesterday in an effort to persuade him to change his selections, but he refused. He pointed out the Baseball Writers' Association had passed a resolution last year in which it was agreed to give official scoring jobs to unemployed newspapermen.

Falling to make the commissioner change his mind, the Chicago writers announced they would regard Simons and Munnell as official scorers although Nelly and Cruesberry would be paid.

Mrs. McIntyre Is Kootenay Champ

Trail, Sept. 29.—Mrs. P. F. McIntyre annexed the Kootenay women's open golf championship and the Headwood Cup when she defeated Mrs. J. N. Cran, Roseland, in the postponed eighteen-hole final. It was the first title award of the Kootenay Women's Golf Association.

CARL HUBBELL WARNS ABOUT HIS BASE HITS

New York, Sept. 29.—The Washington Senators don't have to worry, maybe, about my screw ball, but they better look out for me when I step up to that plate to hit," said Carl Hubbell, ace left-hander of the Giants, as he fussed and fumed to find the right bat.

"Get away from those bats," said Mel Ott, "we're not asking you to hit. All you got to do is pitch."

"Yeah," drawled Hubbell, "and if I waited for some of you fellows to hit for me, I'd never win a game."

Portsmouth Will Tackle Villa In Football Feature

Former, Sharing English Football Lead With Blackburn, Face Hard Match

Blackburn Oppose Manchester City

Arsenal Take on Middlesbrough; Motherwell, Scottish Leaders, Meet Falkirk

London, Sept. 29.—A wholesale shuffle in leadership of the first division of the English Soccer League may result from to-morrow's battles, when the closely-ranked eleventh mix it up. Portsmouth, sharing leadership with Blackburn Rovers, have a tough nut to crack when they entertain Aston Villa, but Blackburn travel to Manchester City for what may prove an easier engagement.

Arsenal, league champions, who have won only two and drawn three matches out of seven, expect to get closer to the top at the expense of Middlesbrough.

Arsenal, however, will likely be without the services of Roberts, their injured leading scorer, in Wednesday's friendly match with the Glasgow Rangers. The Londoners will not choose their side until to-morrow.

London is favored with another narrow victory over the Rangers near the top, clash with Chelsea. Chelsea's team is not yet chosen. The "Spurs" will field their regular eleven.

BATTERED TEAM Everton will take a battered team to Liverpool. Dixie Dean will probably be out of action for weeks after an operation for removal of two pieces of bone in his left ankle, badly twisted against Arsenal recently. Liverpool, however, are at full strength.

Second division leadership is even more tangled than the first and may remain so after to-morrow, for none of the four teams sharing the top rung meet. Port Vale, however, ranking first on goal average, travel to Notts County, who are only a point behind the leading Wolves. Two of the three other leaders were also away: Bolton to Burnley, and Fulham to Bury, while Preston North End entertain the redoubtable Plymouth Argyle.

Norwich City expect to hold their slight lead in the southern section of the third division, having an easy assignment at Northampton Town, but in the northern section, the feature game brings together the leading Chesterfield side and Barnsley, who are only a point back.

Glasgow, Sept. 29.—Motherwell, whose proud record of successive victories was marred at last this week, when Aberdeen held them to a tie, seek revenge in to-morrow's Scottish League engagements at the expense of Falkirk. Rangers, league champions, visit Partick Thistle.

Another feature match brings Queen's Park, the amateurs, to Celtic's grounds.

In the second division, Morton, relegated from the first, take on Arbroath. Both are only a point back of the leading Dunfermline eleven.

ALL STARS TO MEET ALBIONS

Cricket Champions Will Face Picked Eleven at Beacon Hill To-morrow

A representative team, consisting of players of the Victoria and District Cricket Association, to-morrow afternoon will meet the Albions, league winners, in an exhibition match at Beacon Hill Park, at 1:30 o'clock. This match will mark the closing of the season.

H. T. Lock will captain the all-star eleven and the selection committee has chosen a strong group of players from the Inco's, Victoria, Five C's and Wanderers.

The following will comprise the team: H. T. Lock, Reg Wenman, Godfrey Wenman, Inco's; F. Barber-Starkey, W. J. Moffatt, J. F. Meredith, Victoria; Eric Quanten, F. Comley, P. Shrimpton, Five C's; E. Darcus and R. Moffatt Jr., Wanderers. Reserves will be as follows: A. Atwell, Five C's; N. Wanders; B. Tye, Inco's; and B. Edwards, Victoria.

CRICKET CHAMPIONS WILL FACE PICKED ELEVEN AT BEACON HILL TO-MORROW

Washington, Sept. 29.—Boston Red Sox bunched hits in two big innings yesterday to defeat Philadelphia, 4 to 3, in the first game of a three-contest series. The Sox tallied twice in the sixth to knot the score, and then went out in front in the seventh with another pair of runs.

CARL HUBBELL WARNS ABOUT HIS BASE HITS

New York, Sept. 29.—The Washington Senators don't have to worry, maybe, about my screw ball, but they better look out for me when I step up to that plate to hit," said Carl Hubbell, ace left-hander of the Giants, as he fussed and fumed to find the right bat.

"Get away from those bats," said Mel Ott, "we're not asking you to hit. All you got to do is pitch."

"Yeah," drawled Hubbell, "and if I waited for some of you fellows to hit for me, I'd never win a game."

Jimmy Wilson Leaves Card

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—Jimmy Wilson, Cardinal catcher, said yesterday he was leaving the team before the end of the season at the request of the management. However, he objected to any action of Manager Frankie Frisch.

Wilson, a star on the local National League baseball club, has been reported in rebellion against Frisch.

Wilson denied he had sought the management of the club, giving Frisch several weeks ago after the discharge of Charles "Gibby" Stine.

WASHINGTON STARS LOS

Crowder and Stewart Fail to Halt Yankee Sluggers in 9 Defeat

Boston Braves Gain Ground By Defeating and Tying Brooklyn in Twin Bill

The "tune-up games for the world series are rather meaningless, since the teams which have already clinched the major league titles do not care much whether they win or lose them, but it is rather interesting to note the four prospective world series through the motions of preparation for the big fry, only Carl Hubbell has had any success.

The New York Giants star pitcher who may be the outstanding figure in the series, if the "dope" holds true, came through his trial brilliant yesterday. The same afternoon teammates Hal Schumacher took trimming and yesterday two of Washington's mound mainstays, Paul Stewart and Al Crowder, were pummeled all around the lot by New York Yankees.

ACE WILD Both Stewart and Crowder suffered early streaks of wildness. The ace of the Yankees in the first inning, a only the power of the Senators slugging kept Washington in the game long enough to lose by an 11 to 9 count.

Jimmy Foss, leading American League slugger, delivered two double hits in the first inning, and a total up to 200 hits, but Boston's Sox came through with a pair of tie runs rallies to beat the Philadelphia Athletics to 3.

Boston Braves got a little closer to St. Louis Cardinals by defeating Brooklyn's Dodgers 5 to 4 in the first game of a double-header yesterday, as a wild and woolly game that opened their three-game series. The Yankees scored seven runs in the first inning but Washington came back to take the lead twice at 8 to 7 and 9 to 6, finally lost out in the eighth when the four hits and two walks off "Gene" Al Crowder gave the Yankees two runs and the ball game. Babe Ruth walloped his thirty-second home run of the season in the fourth inning to tie the score and incidentally tie Lou Gehrig, their private duel; drove in two more runs and scored two more. The Braves played first base in Gehrig's usual position.

Washington..... 9 15
New York..... 11 14
Batteries—Stewart, Crowder and Schumacher; Dero, Van Atta, Moore and Glenn.

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Boston Red Sox bunched hits in two big innings yesterday to defeat Philadelphia, 4 to 3, in the first game of a three-contest series. The Sox tallied twice in the sixth to knot the score, and then went out in front in the seventh with another pair of runs.

Toronto Varsity Favored To Repeat Gridiron Victory

CRITICISM BY VINES CHECKED

Attempt of Former Champ to Repudiate Remarks About U.S. Moguls Blocked

Boston Sports Writer Denies Vines Was Misquoted in Original Interview

New York, Sept. 29.—The attempt of Elsworth Vines, former United States tennis champion, to repudiate his criticism of the United States Davis Cup strategy and management this year, has been investigated by the Associated Press, with the following results:

1. Vines, instead of repudiating remarks he made at Newport earlier in the summer repeated and amplified them when he talked with sports writers on his return to Los Angeles.

2. The former champion's categorical denial of criticism of Davis Cup methods, made in a telegram to Vernon Prentice, New York, captain of the American team, was dispatched after consultation with Perry Jones, secretary of the California Tennis Association.

3. The subject matter of Vines' remarks criticizing the psychology of "fight talks" given by players before the Davis Cup matches abroad, and urging a former internationalist to be put in charge of the new American team, was confirmed by Perry Jones, secretary of the California Tennis Association, as well as by all sports writers who talked with the Californian.

The original story, carried by the Associated Press under a Newport, R.I., date-line last week, was based on an interview written for the Boston Transcript by its sports editor, George Carens. "Vines absolutely was not misquoted," Carens said.

Seeded Players Win In Pro Net Tourney

Rye, N.Y., Sept. 29.—The four top seeded players came through as expected in the quarter finals of the annual United States professional singles tennis competition at the Westchester Country Club yesterday.

Vincent Richards backed Edward Faulkner, Philadelphia, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2; Robert Murray, Sand Point, L.I., defeated J. Basil Maguire, Greenwich Country Club, 2-6, 10-8, 6-4; Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, defeated Charles Wood, 6-2, 6-2, 6-6; and Paul Heston, Washington, D.C., won from William H. Thrist, Philmont, Pa., 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

Dusek and McCready Win Mat Engagements

Toronto, Sept. 29.—Bouncing Rudy Dusek, Omaha rubber man, tackled another win on his string of Toronto victories when he defeated Count George Zarnoff, Ukraine in the main bout of a wrestling card yesterday evening.

Dusek pinned the slippery Count to the canvas with a grade hold for the only fall of the one-hour limit bout. The fall came after forty-six minutes and thirty-seven seconds.

Earl McCready, Amulet, Sask., won an easy victory over Buck Weaver, Colorado, in eleven minutes and seven seconds.

Coach Warren Stevens Has Strong Club To Defend Inter-collegiate Laurels

JACK SINCLAIR ON DECK AGAIN

Ace Backfielder Will Lead Champs; Fine Programme of Games To-morrow

Toronto, Sept. 29.—The intercollegiate champions of 1932, University of Toronto, will start the new football campaign as favorites to repeat for at least one very good reason. Jack Sinclair, long-geared punter, ball carrier, plunger and whatnot, will lead the blue forces.

A varsity brigade that was strong in every department won the intercollegiate title last fall without Sinclair, the ace backfielder nursing injuries after the second game of the schedule. He recovered in time to lead a losing battle against Hamilton Tigers in the Canadian playoffs.

Cochran Warren Stevens has every reason to be thankful "Long Jaw" is around again. Graduation took a heavy toll of his first line-up of last season and left him with young material that has yet to be proved valuable.

Besides Sinclair for the rear division, he has 138-pound Harold Arnup, a steady kicker and tricky broken-field runner. Arnup carried the burden for the Blue after Sinclair was put out of action in 1932.

Junior Earnings Place Johnny Copp, Fin Plunger and Hal Richardson, are the other veteran backfielders. Grace, brilliant plunger of Varsity's junior Canadian champions, has carried himself a place.

So long as Bobby Coulter goes along as he did in the season opener on Saturday against Remy, there will be no need for a quarterback the team.

Andy Henderson, dark-haired outside and snapper, Bell, are the only 1932 linemen available, but Stevens found Jack Witzel of the 1931 team in his squad of candidates and Perry, an American-bred inside. These two he is sure to use regularly.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—Four outstanding attractions with more than ordinary interest feature the Western Canadian football programme to-morrow that looks as good as the usual mid-November menu. In a final stand to reach peak-conditions for schedule openings a week later, all but two senior teams have selected really rough opposition.

Sarnia Imperials move into Montreal and a game with the Eastern Whalers, regarded as being several degrees stronger than a year ago. Imperials whipped University of Western Ontario Mustangs last Saturday.

Headlining a double-header here, University of Toronto and Argonauts tangle for the city championship and Rex Degruyck Memorial Trophy.

funds. And we know, too, of course, that it is only our millionaires who keep the C.C.F. going. We know that even without Mr. Pooley's secret service reports. It is a positive scandal that our millionaires should be allowed to contribute so heavily to the C.C.F. It is right that they should be allowed to do this while we, the common people, are raking up every cent to put at the disposal of the Conservative party so that we may have a purkwa between us and hard times?

I am glad Mr. Pooley has drawn attention to the matter. We are faced with a grave peril. If we are not careful the C.C.F. will drive Conservatism and Mr. Pooley into oblivion and where will we be then? Wake up, you who are doing the work of this province! In their time of direct distress Dr. Toimie and Mr. Bruhn and Mr. Boyd need you. They are pretending to be opposed to each other and to be very deadly enemies indeed, but that is just a trick to deceive the C.C.F. and the millionaires.

SHIELDS GROWS UP

Hubbell, Cronin And Klein Given Baseball Honors

Voted Outstanding Major League Players of Season in All-star Team Selection

RUTH FAILS TO EARN POSITION

Other Pitchers Are Grove and Crowder; Jimmy Foxx Gets First Base Berth

New York, Sept. 29.—The outstanding three major league ball players of the year, on the basis of final returns in the Associated Press all-star poll, are Manager Guy Cronin, Washington Senators; southpaw Carl Hubbell, New York Giants, and slugging Chuck Klein, Phillies.

They dominate the balloting by sports editors and writers. In the total of eighty-nine votes cast, Cronin is named by eighty-eight for the all-star shortstop role, Hubbell by eighty-four for the number one pitching position and Klein by eighty-one for the post of duty in right field, where no longer is Babe Ruth even a challenger of the Phillies' flogger.

The passing of Ruth from the all-star picture, with only three votes in his behalf for old times' sake, is one of the year's outstanding developments, along with the fact only one New York Yankee, Catcher Bill Dickey, wins a place in the line-up.

Seven American Leaguers and five National League stars make up the first team in the Associated Press consensus. The pennant-winning Giants and Senators each placed two men.

Hubbell's battery-mate, Gus Mancuso, squeaks into the second base stopping job by a narrow voting margin over Mickey Cochrane, Philadelphia Athletics, and Virgil Davis, of the Phillies.

At first base, the great Jimmy Foxx, powerhouse of the Athletics, compiled a 3 to 1 margin over Gehring in the voting. Bill Terry, of the Giants, placed third.

Apparently on the strength of his larger hitting this year, Charley Gehring, of the Detroit Tigers, had a 2 to 1 edge over Frankie Frisch, the St. Louis Cardinals' manager, for second base position.

Cronin was voted into shortstop position. Pie Traynor, the Pittsburgh Pirate veteran, won over a National League rival, Pepper Martin, at third, although the Pepper's showing is a remarkable tribute to his performance in his first season at this position.

GREAT OUTFIELD
The outfield of Al Simmons, of the Chicago White Sox; Wally Berger, of the Boston Braves, and Klein, proved easy for the experts. No one else was even close to this trio.

Similarly the selection of Lefty Grove, of the As, as the pitching mate of Hubbell and Crowder, was decisive. The old fireballer of the White Elephants is still conceded to be the American League's outstanding boxman. Cantwell, Whitehall and Dean were next in popular favor among the flingers.

HOW VOTING WENT
Here's the all-star first team line-up, showing votes cast and current unofficial batting or pitching marks:

Position—
First Base Foxx Athletics 51 387
Second Base Gehring Tigers 53 321

NRA RESULTS ARE REPORTED

By ROONEY DUTCHER
Washington, Sept. 29.—Agents of NRA in the field privately report latest reactions to the recovery campaign which may be summarized as follows: People generally: Glad to pitch in, but dreading what may happen if the programme fails. Some have inclined to take the show in the spirit of a circus parade, despite their determination. Business: Intensely interested, especially where, but still fearful. A substantial minority is found in opposition or chiseling. The most pronounced fear of the majority is that there won't be adequate enforcement and that chisellers will be able to maintain unfair competition. Some fear that the programme is an entangling wedge to an inescapable controlled society.

Labor: With certain exceptions, slow to take advantage of its opportunity to organize and allowing business men and industrialists to do all the planning.

Seven Rules For Securing A Husband

Suggests Lures Men Can't Resist

How to Get Your Man and Hold Him: Develop a Come-hither Look in Your Eye; Cultivate the Fine Art of Jollyng; Be All Things to the Man You Want; Above All, Be Amiable

A GIRL asks me if I will tell her how to "get her man" and hold him after she has caught him. Well, daughter, there are no hard-and-fast rules for dealing with men. They are kittle cattle and hard to please, and the line of attractions that are a wow with one man are a flop with another, so you cannot even say: Use this bait for minnows and that for whales, or dangle this fly before a wary old trout and play him carefully, but a sucker will bite at anything.

There are, however, certain charms and wiles to which practically all men are susceptible, and if you will cultivate these you are fairly sure of never being dateless and of eventually making the grade to the altar with the youth of your choice. These are:

First—Good looks. You must present a sufficiently attractive appearance to catch the young masculine eye. This does not necessitate your being a Miss America. Men, thank heaven, never analyze a woman's charm, nor do they differentiate between her and her clothes, and they think any girl is pretty if she has on a pretty frock. Particularly if it is gay in color and of some soft floating material.

Most men's hearts are wrapped up in chiffon and, generally speaking, the more feminine a girl looks, the more men admire her. They fall for fluff ruffles every time. There were no old maids in grandma's day.

Second—The come-hither look in the eye. A sort of come-on look, if you get what I mean. A look that subtly indicates to a man that a girl regards him as a great big wonderful sheik and that she is having the time of her life gazing worshipingly up into his eyes.

No boy is going to see a girl a second time who high-hats him. No boy is going to make love to a girl who is as unresponsive as a stone image. If there ever was a time when men ran after the women who flouted them, it is out now. The modern man has to be lured into love. He doesn't break in of his own accord.

Third—Personality. Get a line. Have some individuality that will make you stand out from the crowd. Don't copy-cat other girls. Be yourself. Be natural. Don't pose. There is no other girl in the world so little attractive to men as the affected one.

Remember that while some men like wild girls, others prefer prim little Puritans; that while some men like chatterers, others like the soft, silent smiling Mona Lisas, and that while some men like girls who can mix cocktails, most men want wives who can bake bread like mother used to make. So stick to your own line of attractions and put the loud pedal on them instead of trying to crawl some other girl's act.

Fourth—The fine art of jollyng. Don't feed men flattery in hunks with a shovel. They resent this, but every man will eat out of your hand if it is filled with sugar. Don't let a crude blunder and self-satisfaction in so many words that is God's masterpiece. Get your idea across to him by your air of adoration; by the awe with which you listen to his opinion; by the rapt expression on your face when you listen to him monologuing about himself.

Ask him to do something for you. Get him to settle the farm-relief problem, and how to deal with the Japanese situation. No girl ever lacks for dates who is an A-1 incense burner.

Fifth—Adaptability. Keep your mind as flexible as you do your waistline. A chameleon rampant in the act of changing its colors, should be the heraldic device of every woman if she wants to catch a husband and get along with him after she has got him. For in the adjusting of the sexes to each other it is women who must do the adjusting. Men can't, or won't, or don't know how to do it.

So learn to be all things to all men. If a man is athletic, play golf with him, no matter how your feet hurt you. If he is a radio hound, hunt up new stations for him to tune in on. If he is bookish, read up so you can discuss his favorite author with him. If he likes to eat, cook him up dainty dishes. Lend your ears to the man who likes to talk. Babble to the silent man who can never think of anything to say. Half of the time you will be bored to tears, but the other half you will reap an exceedingly great reward.

Sixth—Efficiency. Learn how to do things. A girl may be as beautiful as a hour and a female Solomon; she might have a heart of gold and a pocket full of money, and still she would be left high and dry socially if she had no parlor tricks. You have to be able to do what other people are doing and to fit into any picture in order to be invited to parties and to get any attention when you get there.

Men are selfish creatures and they are not going to ask you to step out with them unless you can work your passage by being entertaining. They are not going to ask you to dance if you step on their feet and have to be towed around like a barge. They are not going to play bridge with you if you trump their aces. They are not going to swim with you or golf or tennis with you or bother with you at all unless you can take care of yourself.

Seventh—Good nature. Girls don't think of amiability as a head-line attraction to men in women, but it is. Men like girls who are easy to get along with, who are amiable, who are pleasant to be with, who don't ask too much of them and who laugh things off instead of making issues of them. Many a girl gets a good husband because she didn't get peevish when an automobile broke down, or bawled a chap out for being late in keeping a date.

These are some of the ways to get your man, daughter. There are others, but these have the O.K. of thousands of successful husband-hunters.

The Earth's Large Cities

LENINGRAD
Within the memory of living persons, the city in Russia has had three names: Once it was called St. Petersburg, later Petrograd, and now Leningrad.

Back in 1703, Czar Peter the Great decided to build a city near the eastern end of the Gulf of Finland. The place chosen was on low marshy ground, and the Neva River flows through it. Because of the branching of the river, several islands had been formed. The work of building on such low ground was very hard, and so many men died while it was being done that the city is said to have been "built on bones."

While I was in Leningrad in 1930, it seemed to me like living in a house that was being repaired. On every hand were torn-up streets. Men were at work painting buildings, tearing them down, and setting up new ones. Most of the streets were of the cobblestone type. They made rough riding even when the auto carriage did not have to avoid mounds of earth taken out of ditches.

The population of Leningrad has changed more swiftly than that of any other large city in Europe. In 1914 Leningrad had 2,416,000 persons. In 1920, two years after the removal of the capital to Moscow, the population was reported to have sunk to 722,000. By 1923 it rose to 1,067,000; and the latest census report, for 1931, places the number at 2,288,000.

Leningrad is the home of several universities and an Academy of Sciences. It has a library containing 3,000,000 books. While I was there I visited an art gallery, formerly belonging to the royal family, and was interested by the large number of paintings by master artists, especially those of Rembrandt.

Another sight in Leningrad is the Winter Palace which was used by the czars. It is reputed to be the largest palace ever built, containing enough room to house 6,500 persons. (For "Travel" section of your scrapbook.)
